3. WORSHIP SHOULD LIFT OUR SPIRITS AND REFRESH OUR SOULS.

If we leave worship feeling worse about ourselves than when we came, then something is wrong. True worship is uplifting. It is good for our soul. When worship becomes a battleground, it wears on people. When we come to worship to fight or complain, then we leave tired and frustrated. This is not what worship is about. Worship is the one place where we should put our differences aside and gather around the table. When we come to worship, we should be able to let go of the problems of the world. We should turn be able to turn our frustrations over to God and leave feeling like a weight has been lifted off our shoulders. Worship centers us and reminds us of our identity and who we serve. We were designed to worship, and it should feel good to come together.

4. WORSHIP SHOULD ENCOURAGE US TO BE BETTER CHRISTIANS.

It should unify us, not divide us. If we are being torn apart by our worship, then we are not properly worshipping God. In 1 Corinthians 11 Paul chided the church for being divided when they took the Lord's Supper. Because they were focusing on themselves, Paul said, "When you come together, it is not the Lord's Supper you eat" (1 Cor. 11:20). They were eating the Corinthian's supper, not the Lord's Supper. Worship had become about their own interests. They were not being shaped into the image of Jesus, and therefore they were distorting worship. When we come together we are to "stir up one another to love and good works" (Heb. 10:24). This is the purpose of worship. We are to be bound together by love, not torn apart by our likes and dislikes. Worship should make us better human beings.

5. WORSHIP SHOULD SHAPE US INTO THE IMAGE OF JESUS.

We become like what we worship. If worship does not cause to look more like Jesus, then we are doing something wrong. If it doesn't draw us closer to God, then we need to examine our heart. If we are not being transformed by our worship, then we are missing out on something. Worship should be transformative! It is not about what I like. It is not about getting my way. It is not about how fast we can get through a service. It is not about showing off. It is about coming into the presence of God and forever being changed.
