Too Easily Pleased

If you asked twenty good men today what they thought the highest of the virtues, nineteen of them would reply, Unselfishness. But if you asked almost any of the great Christians of old he would have replied, Love.

You see what has happened? A negative term has been substituted for a positive. The negative ideal of Unselfishness carries with it the suggestion not primarily of securing good things for others, but of going without them ourselves, as if our abstinence and not their happiness was the important point. I do not think this is the Christian virtue of Love.

The New Testament has lots to say about self-denial, but not about self-denial as an end in itself. We are told to deny ourselves and to take up our crosses in order that we may follow Christ; and nearly every description of what we shall ultimately find if we do so contains an appeal to desire.

Indeed, if we consider the unblushing promises of reward and the staggering nature of the rewards promised in the Gospels, it would seem that Our Lord finds our desires, not too strong, but too weak. We are half-hearted creatures, fooling about with drink and sex and ambition when infinite joy is offered us, like an ignorant child who wants to go on making mud pies in a slum because he cannot imagine what is meant by the offer of a holiday at the sea.

We are far too easily pleased.

DONATIONS TOWARDS DINNER

If you are not a Senior Saint and would like to donate money or food for the Valentine's Day Dinner please see Sandra Tenison.

YOUTH ACOMPLISHMENTS

- ◆ Lydia Jones knows the 5 Acts of Worship
- ◆ Carson Talley knows how many books are in the Old Testament

Good Work everyone!

A fifth grade teacher asked her class to look at TV commercials and see if they could use them in some way to communicate ideas about God.

- God is like Bayer Aspirin... He works miracles
- God is like a Ford... He's got a better idea
- God is like coke... He's the real thing
- God is like Hallmark Cards...He cares enough to send His very best
- God is like Tide... He gets the stains out
- God is like GE... He brings good things to life
- God is like Scotch Tape... You can't see him, but you know He's there
- God is like Allstate... You're in good hands with Him
